In the Court Room with Rufus Choate.

Before a jury Mr. Choate was perfectly at home, after getting into the midst of his argument; and he was acknowledged one of the ablest of criminal advocates. The jury fairly hung upon his words, often leaning forward in their seats in their desire to hear. He went rapidly through the evidence in the case, throwing suspicions on the testimony of the witnesses for the Government, alluding in no mild terms to the infamous character of these witnesses; and after long speaking, which it would seem might exhaust the speaker, if the jury showed symptoms of fatigue he aroused them by playful extravagances; he indulged witty allusions; he told some humorous story, always upon some points at issue, or he purposely thrust his lance at opposing counsel, provoking a little war of violent words, till he had succeeded in arousing the tired jurymen to a listening attitude. Mr. Choate always endeavored, if possible, to make his speech before a jury without an adjournment of court intervening. He preferred to say all he had to say at one sitting, as his arguments were to be carried in the mind throughout his whole speech. He knew when to stop. He knew in just what condition of mind to leave his jury. His eye wandered from one to another, and he would often address himself to an individual who seemed indifferent, till he had secured his attention, continually varying his moods to suit the temper of his audience. He related stories of the freaks of somnambulists. When he was wrestling with a strong or telling point in the argument, and wished to fix it particularly in mind, his gestures were violent, he seemed beside himself, and as he came down with a thud upon his heels, he carried the impression to the hearts of the jury that he himself felt the truth of what he uttered. When battling a point that told against his case, he skillfully led away the mind from contemplation of it in its inimical aspect, painting it in colors of his own, and fixing the attention on his own interpretation. His quick eye detected at once a point gained, and he followed up a home-thrust till he was sure of his man.—Californian for December.

LIVELY RAILROADING.—The engineer's wife threw down her sewing and impatiently hastened into the back yard to settle a noisy dispute among the children. She selected Jack as the offender, and uncoupling her slipper with a quick movement she ran Master Jack on a siding and began to mark him "Bad order" without regarding his signals and piteous howls. By this time Bob, the guilty one, having run onto the secure turn-table of the back fence, so that he could run off in either direction, screamed out, "Let up, mother; shut her off, I tell you! You've cut out the wrong car an' you'll run by the right one if you aint lively!" The mother coupled up and tried to make a flying switch on the culprit, but he got out on the main line, blocked the section against her and was running wild for the first siding long before the switch engine could get out of the yard.—New York World.

"Your little birdie has been very, very sick" she wrote to the young man. "It was some sort of nervous trouble, and the doctors said I should have perfect rest and quiet, and that I must think of nothing—absolutely nothing. And all the time, dear George, I thought constantly of you."—The young man read it over, and then read it through again very slowly, and put it in his pocket, and went out under the silent stars, and kept thinking, and thinking.—But he didn't say anything. He only kept thinking.

Dr. Cutter says that the increase of nervous diseases, decaying teeth, premature baldness and general lack of muscular and bone strength, are greatly due to the impoverished quality of flour now in use, the gluten being thrown away in order to make the flour white. He urges the use of unbolted flour, milk, eggs and butter. He denies that fish is brain food or that Agassiz ever said it was, and claims that butter, being nearly all fat, is a better brain food than any other.

A "Young Naturalist" writes us to learn "how he can catch a live wasp for scientific purposes, without injuring it?"—Right by the tail, son; right by the tip end of the tail. Squeeze hard, the wasp wont mind it a particle and if it seems to be injured any that you can see, send us the bill and we'll pay for a new wasp.—Hawkeye.

An English doctor says that people troubled with heart disease are more likely to die at midnight than any other time, especially if they are sound sleepers. Get up and shake down the coal stove at 11:45 and you'll be all right.

John Shepherd, a farmer near Peoria, Ill., has faithfully kept a vow made in 1880, not to cut off his hair or shave until the election of a Democratic President. His whiskers reach almost to his waist, and his hair is kept in braids.

Married life reaches the acme of happiness when a woman can eat crackers in bed without any complaint from her husband.

The "lap of luxury" is when the cat gets at the cream.

QUARRELS.—People talk of lovers' quarrels as rather pleasant episodes. Probably they are not quarrels at all. She pouts; he hisses. He frowns; she coaxes. Matrimonial quarrels are another thing. We doubt seriously if married people ever truly forgive each other after the first falling out. They gloss it over; they kiss and make it up; the wound apparently heals, but only, as some of those horrible wounds given in battle do, to break out again at some unexpected moment. The man who sneered and said cruel things to a sensitive woman, never has her whole heart again. The woman who has uttered reproaches to a man can never be taken to his bosom with the same tenderness as before those words were spoken. The two people who must never quarrel are husband and wife. One may fall out with kinsman, and make up and be friends again. The tie of blood is a strong one, and affection may return after it has flown away; but love once banished is a dead and buried thing. The heart may ache, but it is with hopelessness. It may be impossible to restore the old idol to empty niche. For a word or two, for a sharpening of the wits, for a moment's self-assertion, two people have often been made miserable for life. For, whatever there may be before, there are no lovers' quarrels after marriage.

There was a very smart man, and he met a man who was not smart, and said to him: "See here, I am an awful smart man. I know everything and can do everything, yet my pocket, my purse, and my stomach are a trinity of emptiness—three in one, and I'm the one; while you, who are not smart, go clothed in purple and fine linen and have your ribs regularly adiposed.—Now tell me, why is this?" And the man who was not smart answered and said that he did not know, but he supposed it must be because the market was overstocked with smart men. Moral: There is none.

An old Vermont farmer came home drunk the other night, and became the victim of an irrepressible desire to get still drunker. So he thought he would bring out his wagon and drive over to Shelburne Falls for more whisky. Just as he was about putting the finishing touches on the harnessing arrangements he said to himself, "This horse has got horns!" He brought out his lantern and found that he had harnessed the cow to the wagon. He muttered, "I'm drunk enough now," unhitched the beast, and went into the house to sleep it off.—Rutland (Vt.) Herald.

When thou wishest to delight thyself, think of the virtues of those who live with thee; for instance, the activity of one, and the modesty of another, and the liberality of a third, and some other good quality of a fourth. For nothing delights so much as the examples of the virtues, when they are exhibited in the morals of those who live with us, and present themselves in abundance. Wherefore we must keep them before us.—M. Antoninus.

A New York medical journal says that some of the cigarettes which are smoked to so large an extent are said to be dangerous articles. A physician had one of them analyzed, and the tobacco was found to be strongly impregnated with opium, while the wrapper, which was warranted to be rice paper, was proved to be the most ordinary quality of white paper, whitened with arsenic.

"What is political science?" asks an exchange. Political science! O, yes, we see. When you can make the people believe that you can hold office better than the man who is in, and they have the confidence to put you in his place, you have demonstrated about all there is in political science.

A Catholic publication says that "damn" is not an oath, and it does "not see why so ponderous a word has been dropped by lexicographers." Perhaps the lexicographers had their corns tramped upon by some clumsy persons. Nothing will make a man drop the word quicker than to have his pet corn trod on.

The gambler and the beautiful young lady have both of them winning ways; but the gambler's great card is the knave of trumps, while the young lady's is the queen of hearts. Hearts were always our favorite suit.

"Annie, what were the current expenses last month?" asked the husband. "Oh, only twenty-eight cents," she replied.—"Why, how was that?" "Well, you see I only baked cake twice and therefore used very few currants."

"Gem'len," said the old man, "remember dat it am not safe to fo'm an opinyun on a stranger by de size ob his mouf or de number ob his hat. No pusson kin tell de number ob mules in a barn by lookin' at de stable doah."

If any one tells you such a one has spoken ill of you, do not refute them in that particular; but answer, had he known all my vices, he had not spoken only of that one.—Epictetus,

It all came from educating his daughter at a seminary. She reproved her father for wiping his mouth on the table cloth and he went to the barn and hung himself.

THE CHRONICLE.

BRIDGEPORT, DECEMBER 11, 1880.

The CHRONICLE Office is on the second floor of "Goodson's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street, Bodie.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENCY.—L. P. Fisher, 2 Merchants' Exchange, is our Agent, and is authorized to contract for advertising, receive subscriptions and make collections on our account.

Congress assembled on Monday, when the President transmitted his message—a lengthy document, and mostly a review of the workings of the Government under his administration. It cannot but be admitted that the Administration of President Hayes has been a most pure and successful one, notwithstanding he has had an opposition Congress during his entire term of office: but the judicious use of the veto power prevented the full accomplishment of much injurious legislation, and his Administration will pass into history as one of the best and purest since Washington's time.

The President recommends the creation of the title of Captain-General, with suitable compensation, to be conferred on Gen. Grant, for the eminent services he has given to our common country. This is a timely recommendation, and one that should meet the approval of the people and be promptly acted on by Congress. Too much honor cannot be bestowed on the greatest General of the age. He belongs to the whole country, and it is but just that it should provide for him in his declining years, and the humiliating movement to raise $100,000 for him by a subscription paper, should be abandoned at once.

It now comes to light that the letter published just before the late election, and purporting to be from Weaver, the Greenback candidate for President in which he was represented as playing into the hands of the Republicans, was a forgery, and evidently written by the same hand that wrote Morey letter. Experts have examined both together, and declare them to be the same envelopes. The matter has been placed in the hands of the District Attorney of New York and will have an important bearing on the Morey letter investigation.

THE PANAMA CANAL.—The subscription books of the Universal Company, for the construction of the Panama Canal, have been opened in New York, and on Tuesday last subscriptions to the amount of $3,600,000 were received. Most of the subscriptions were for small amounts, showing a popular interest in the undertaking.

A GOOD PAPER.—The New York Observer is an interesting and valuable family paper that is full of useful and good reading. It has both religious and secular news, and a foreign correspondence which is entertaining and valuable. Any one can get a sample copy by sending to the New York Observer, 37 Park Row, New York.

A. B. Courtwright, generally known as "Al" Courtwright, one of the Mendocino outlaws, has been killed in Mendocino county by one of the witnesses against him with whom he was having an altercation. It is a pity he had not been killed during the rebellion, when he was in the army, as he has been a desperado ever since.

A farmer was sentenced in Ireland on Wednesday to twenty years' penal servitude for firing at his landlord. He should have killed his man and then procured a change of venue to Mono county and walk off free.

The late snow storm did not stop work on the Carson and Colorado Railroad. Trains have been regularly running between the Mound House and the end of the track some distance this side of Dayton.

The Governor has commissioned Dr. Chester Rowell, State Senator from this district, as a member of the State Board of Health, vice Grannis, deceased.

It has cost the government about $25,000 to investigate and recount the population of St. Louis—and still the people of that city are not happy.

The friends of Blaine state positively that he has been tendered the position of Secretary of State by Garfield, and that he has not declined it.

Sir Thomas Bouch, the engineer who built the Tay Bridge, died a fortnight ago, worn down with mortification and chagrin.

The election held in Sacramento on Monday last for School Directors resulted in a clean sweep for the Republicans.

The Libby prison, Richmond, Va., has been sold for $6,000, and will be used as a tobacco factory.

George Daly is expected to visit the Comstock in two or three weeks.

A bill for the admission of Dakota as a State has been introduced in Congress.

General Stoneman of Los Angeles sold his grape crop for $10,380.

Placer county is free of debt; the railroad tax pays all expenses.

American subscriptions to the Panama canal project thus far amount to $6,300,000.

Canadians are flocking to the United States mostly to Vermont.

Detective Finnegass has arrested Robert R. Brown, at Toledo, for counterfeiting silver coins.

The California Legislature will meet on January 3d, three weeks from next Monday. The session is limited to 60 days.

The Germans and Scandinavians are emigrating to this country in large numbers—Republican recruits for 1888.

THE UNION.

BRIDGEPORT, DECEMBER 11, 1880.

The UNION office is in Towle's Building, Bridgeport.

JOB PRINTING.—Job printing of the finest description will be furnished at this office at Sacramento prices.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

HEAVY CASTING.—On Thursday evening the cylinder for the machinery of the Lent Combination Shaft arrived here en route for Bodie. It weighs 33,000 pounds, and has been nearly a month on the road, having left Virginia City on November 12th, and it will take two weeks more to land it in Bodie. The truck is drawn by a mixed team of twenty-six horses and mules, and $1,000 worth of barley has been consumed. The team is to haul from Virginia City another portion which weigs 30,000 pounds. The team is hired by the day.

THE RACE.—On Sunday last a race of of small pretensions—a quarter-mile dash, best two in three, came off at the track. The Count and O'Malley mares, and the Chapsey horse were entered. It is said that it was a put up job to hard push the O'Malley in the first heat; let her win the second, and beat her the last, but, to their disgust, she won the third by a neck and took the purse. The attendance was large.

CLOSED.—The Sonora wagon road is closed for the season. The fruit teams never did a better business than this year, selling at good prices and returning with loads of passengers. Thousands of dollars poured into Sonora.

SCHOOL HOURS.—We suggest that the Trustees take into consideration the policy of changing the school hours from 9 to 4 to 8½ to 3½ o'clock. Nine o'clock comes very early, and four very late these short days.

THE ROAD.—The snow placed the first mail between here and Bodie in good traveling condition. There is no snow on the roadway this side of Mormon Ranch, and from there to Bodie it does not impede wheeling.

THAT "BOOM."—In November the Standard-News said that there was a real estate boom in Bodie. As there were only 18 deeds recorded from there, during that month, and the amounts mostly small, we fail to see where the boom came in.

HELD.—On Wednesday the examination of Thomas Hawkins for the murder of Henry Robbins, commenced before Justice Wildes and closed yesterday, resulting in his being held for murder.

STATE TAXES.—Four years ago Mono county paid the least money into the State Treasury; but, for the fiscal year ending June 30th last, there were twenty-one counties lower. Alpine is the lowest.

COURT HOUSE.—The probability is that the new Court House will not be finished until February next, but Superior Court Room No. 1 will be ready for Judge R. M. Briggs to hold Court January 15th.

TELEGRAPH TO MILL CREEK.—Kemp, Hayes, and others, of Bodie, and Judge Murphy, of this town, have organized a company to run a telegraph line into Lundy.

BODIE TOWNSITE.—Next week Judge Briggs will go to Bodie to close the townsite office on the 24th inst. After that date the office will be in Bridgeport.

EXODUS.—It is estimated that at least 3,000 people have left Bodie within the past three months, and it would be no detriment if a thousand more departed.

NATURALIZED.—Since April, 1870, 99 foreigners have been naturalized, mostly natives of Great-Britain, and 125 declared intentions.

DEEDS.—During the month of November 54 deeds—27 mining and 27 real estate, were recorded in the County Recorder's office.

"A POINT."—A "friend" gave a young man a "point" on the horse race. He rode to the track, but walked back minus horse and saddle.

PLASTERING.—We doubt if the plastering exhibited at the new Court House can be excelled, either in workmanship or quality of material.

SLEIGHING.—Our citizens improved the opportunity afforded by the late snowstorm, and a number of sleighs were on the streets.

CHRISTMAS.—Is it not about time for the ladies to make arrangements for Christmas? There should be a tree.

MORTGAGES.—Seven mortgages were recorded last month.

BEATEN AND ROBBED.—About 12 o'clock on Saturday night last two men entered Williams' barn, in the lower end of Bodie, and garroted, beat and robbed a Swede, who was sleeping therein. He was badly bruised about the head, but his assailants succeeded in robbing him of only $5, he having secreted about $150, which they evidently knew he possessed and was going to leave Bodie with the next morning, but they didn't get it, and that town is so much the poorer. This is an item the "live" papers of Bodie did not get.

The Free Press says that diphtheria is prevalent in Bodie.

Transfers of Real Estate.

The following deeds have been recorded in the County Recorder's office:

Nov. 10.

J. M. Land and J. M. Owens to Richard Brown, two-thirds of lot on south side of Green street, Bodie, $400.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION.—The people of Bodie were last evening favored with an exhibition by the pupils of the public school of that place. Miners' Union Hall was filled with the parents and friends of the pupils and of the cause. The entertainment consisted of recitation, singing, and a farce, the whole concluding with the cantata "Pairing; or Crown of Reward," in which most of the pupils participated and rendered it in a manner that would have been creditable to adults, the singing being very fine, showing careful training. In their recitations the children did remarkably well—much better than their friends anticipated. The entire programme was well arranged and carried through smoothly and to the pleasure and perfect satisfaction of the large audience. The exhibition proved that the school is under the tuition of a thorough teacher, and Miss Pitcher, the principal, has brougdt it up to a standard never before reached, and the good words spoken of her by the audience last night were well merited. Miss Pitcher was assisted by Prof. Eastman in carrying the entertainment to a successful issue, and we learn that it will soon be repeated, the proceeds of both entertainments to be applied to the purchase of a piano for the school.

James Stevens, the man who founded Fenianism, was found in New York the other day destitute and starving. His efforts in behalf of his native land caused the British Government to offer a reward of $25,000 for him.
